Dear Frontier Families:

As your FSI-Middle principal, I just wanted to wish you a small sense of relief during these trying times. During a time when it’s important for us to stay up-to-date on what’s happening around us regarding COVID-19 and follow the directives and suggestions of our political and health leaders, it is also important for us to find routine and normalcy. Our entire staff has been working hard over spring break to prepare for your child’s online learning in the 4th quarter. It is important for us to help your child maintain a schedule as best as possible so they can continue to learn and grow in their education. Our hope is that our online process will give your child a sense of "normalcy" during these difficult times.

Our online learning process will commence on March 23, 2020. You have received many detailed updates from the district office since my last emails to your children. Thank you for your questions and patience during this massive transition. I attach more information concerning frequently asked questions at the bottom of this email and I will continue to update you and your child through Google Classroom of any new developments. Together, we can make this transition as smooth as possible.

Our district knows that the transition to virtual learning will require a bit of adjustment for you, the teachers, and your family. I want you to remember that all TIGERS are empathetic and resilient and point you to these two words as we face new and exciting challenges. We are in this together and I know that together we can help everyone be successful.

Be well and stay safe,

Mark Barber

Principal- Frontier School of Innovation-Middle School
